GUIDELINES FOR ESTABLISHING A BUILDING AND KEY POLICY FOR JISCHKE Honors Student

The Jischke Honors Building is a university building. Thus, rules that apply to university buildings apply to the Jischke Honors Building. The Director of the Honors Program is designated by the Provost’s Offices as the building supervisor for the Jischke Honors Building and is therefore responsible for enduring that (1) the safety of the occupants is the utmost consideration and (2) the building policies are followed and.

The primary use of the building is to conduct business for the University Honors Program and other related Programs, e.g. the National Merit/Achievement Program. This includes serving as a classroom for Honors seminars (HON 121 and Hon 321/322), a meeting place for Honors committees and the Honors Student Board.

Honors students and the public have the privilege of using the building to study and socialize as long as they do not interfere with the conducting of business or the teaching of classes. Honors students have the privilege of accessing the building outside of regular business hours as long as they do not interfere with the conducting of business or the teaching of classes.
