Herbert Scoville Jr. Peace Fellowship

The Herbert Scoville Jr. Peace Fellowship, a competitive national program that provides college graduates the opportunity to work in Washington, DC, with one of twenty-seven participating public-interest organizations focusing on international security issues. The program has awarded 134 fellowships since its inception in 1987 and is offered twice yearly, in the spring and fall. It lasts from six to nine months and provides a stipend, health insurance, and travel costs to Washington. The Scoville Fellowship does not award grant or scholarship money to students.

Scoville Fellows may undertake a variety of activities, including research, writing, education, and advocacy in support of the goals of their host organization and may attend coalition meetings, policy briefings, and Congressional hearings. Fellows have written articles, blogs, fact sheets, letters to the editor, op-eds and reports, organized talks and conferences, and been interviewed as experts by the media. Former Scoville Fellows work for U.S. and international NGOs, the Departments of State and Defense, members of Congress and academia, and attend graduate school in political science or international relations, following their fellowships.

If you are interested in peace and security issues visit www.scoville.org. Although the majority of Scoville Fellows have received college degrees in political science, government, international relations, history, or peace studies, we do not require any specific major. There is no application form; application requirements are listed on our website, as are links to the websites of each of the participating groups and information on the work of current and former Scoville Fellows. The next application deadline is October 1, 2012 for the spring 2013 fellowship.

All U.S. citizens, as well as non-U.S. citizens living in the U.S. who have an appropriate work permit, are eligible to apply; foreign nationals living outside the United States are not.
Become a CYCLONE AIDE!

Looking for a paid leadership opportunity unlike any other on campus?

Become a CYCLONE AIDE!

Cyclone Aides have the opportunity to:
- Complete over 100 hours of training on public speaking, professionalism, communication, and leadership
- Introduce new students to Iowa State University
- Assist with Orientation and Destination Iowa State
- Share your Cyclone pride!

Information Sessions:
- Monday, September 17, 5-6 p.m. Room 60, Hixson-Lied Student Success Center
- Tuesday, September 18, 6-7 p.m. Room 3534, Memorial Union

Apply online: http://www.admissions.iastate.edu/leaders

Applications must be submitted by October 1st at 11:59 p.m.!

Questions? Contact Annie Olson at (515) 294-5714 or aolson32@iastate.edu

---

Virginia Tech College of Engineering Graduate Recruiting Forum

Come learn about your career opportunities as a graduate student in the College of Engineering at Virginia Tech. This October 26-27th event will include lab tours, meetings with faculty and students, and professional development discussions to guide you in your choices for graduate school. Whether you are an undergraduate interested in learning more about graduate school, a current graduate student interested in learning about additional opportunities, or a practicing professional interested in the possibility of returning to a graduate program, our recruiting forum and professional development events will have information that will help guide you in your decisions.

Visit http://www.cpe.vt.edu/coegradforum/ for more information.

Travel Scholarships are available.

Registration ends October 1st.

---

Elie Wiesel Prize in Ethics Essay Contest

The Elie Wiesel Prize in Ethics Essay Contest challenges college students to analyze the urgent ethical issues confronting them in today’s complex world. Students are encouraged to write thought-provoking personal essays that raise questions, single out issues and are rational arguments for ethical action.

Eligibility:
Registered undergraduate, full-time Juniors and Seniors at accredited four-year colleges or universities.

Submission:
Students must apply and submit essays online and receive online verification from their Faculty Sponsor. Any professor may act as a Faculty Sponsor and endorse the quality and authenticity of the student’s essay.

Deadline: online by December 3rd, 2012, 5pm PST

To enter & for detailed guidelines, visit www.ethicsprize.org

---

Teaching Fellowship

Applications for the Woodrow Wilson Teaching Fellowships (http://www.wwteachingfellowship.org) opened earlier this summer, with an early decision deadline of October 22, 2012 and a final deadline of January 21, 2013. These fellowships are available to graduating seniors (bachelor’s degree by June 30, 2013) who have majored in the STEM fields (science, technology, engineering, math); recent grads and longer-term alumni are also eligible. The WW Teaching Fellowships prepare outstanding candidates to teach math and science in high-need high schools in one of the three currently participating states—Indiana, Michigan, and Ohio—but applicants from all states are welcome. The award is $30,000, and the program encompasses not only master’s-level preparation but also mentoring throughout the first three years of teaching.
Please join us for a GEM GRAD Lab held at Cornell University on Saturday, October 20, 2012 from 10:00 AM - 4:00 PM in Ithaca, NY!

The GRAD Lab is a fun, engaging (and free!) symposium where participants, science and engineering undergraduates, will receive full information on the importance of graduate school and what is needed to successfully gain admittance with financial support.

Speakers will range from current graduate students to University faculty and senior administrators. They are selected from diverse communities and disciplines to present on the following topics:

- “Why Graduate School”
- “How to Prepare for Graduate School”
- “Understanding the GEM Fellowship”, and
- “Voices From the Field: Real Life Research and Internship Experiences”

GRAD Lab encourages young people to consider graduate engineering or science education and applying for the GEM fellowship. Focusing on the global importance of research and innovation, life-long career benefits, and real world role models the symposium will help each student envision his or her future as a technology leader, successfully apply for a GEM fellowship, and gain entry to a graduate program.

The mission of The National GEM Consortium is to enhance the value of the nation’s human capital by increasing the participation of underrepresented groups (African Americans, American Indians, and Hispanic Americans) at the master’s and doctoral levels in engineering and science.

For more information visit:

Leadership Internship

The Carrie Chapman Catt Center is seeking an involved and experienced undergraduate student for the Hoffman-Binger internship with the Community Leadership Program.

The intern will promote and support the Community Leadership Program through speaking with classes and student organizations to promote the program and offering peer advising. They will assist in maintaining the program’s curriculum resources and participant database. Additionally, the intern will support research on leadership development and have other duties as assigned. Strong speaking and writing skills are desirable.

This ten-hour per week, on-campus internship pays $8.00 per hour. Contact Clinton Stephens at cmsteph@iastate.edu with questions or, to apply, submit your resume with a brief email outlining your interest in the internship position. The position is open until a candidate is selected.

Interested in being a CA?

Got a craving to expand your experiences at ISU? Want to have a positive impact on the lives of ISU students? Interested in building a community within a residence hall? If you answered YES to any of the questions above, then you SHOULD apply for the community adviser position! Below you will find more information about the residence hall CA application process, and required CA informational sessions.

Attendance is required at one of the following Information Sessions:
Tuesday, September 18, 8:00pm Buchanan Hall Main Lounge
Wednesday, September 19, 8:00pm Maple Hall Main Lounge
Wednesday, September 19, 9:00pm Martin Hall Room 2121
Thursday, September 20, 7:00pm Linden Hall Main Lounge
Thursday, September 20, 9:30pm Room 136 UDCC
Wednesday, September 26, 8:00pm Buchanan Hall Main Lounge
Thursday, September 27, 8:00pm Martin Hall Room 2121

Applications are available online now through the Department of Residence website at http://www.housing.iastate.edu/about/employment/student-employment.html. They are due 4:00 p.m. September 28th. If you have any other questions contact: stustaff@iastate.edu